"City Lights"

These city lights burn so bright
But inside there is a darkness
Oh why do I feel helpless
The whole world in my sights
But I'm still reaching
For something in the distance

Was it you that disappeared
Or did I turn away
Am I the one to blame
For my own heart ache

We used to be so close
But with time we drifted apart
Now I'm on my way down the road
To where you are to find your heart

It's like the highway never ends
This road is getting narrow
I travel to the mountains
Drove the sunset

Was it you that disappeared
Or did I turn away
Am I the one to blame
For my own mistakes

We used to be so close
But with time we've drifted apart
Now I'm on my way down the road
To where you are to find your heart

We used to be so close
But we drifted apart
Now I'm on my way down the road
To where you are to find your heart

This is where I want to be
This is where you're calling me
To travel down this road
This narrow road

The straight and narrow
It's the straight and narrow
The straight and narrow
This is where I wanna be
Oh, this is where you're calling me
On the straight and narrow

We used to be so close
We used to be so close

And we used to be so close
But with time we've drifted apart
Now I'm on my way down the road
To where you are to find your heart

We used to be so close
But we drifted apart
I'm finding you on this road
On this road

This narrow road
This narrow road
This narrow road
