Finally I consumed myself for a desiccated sea
And all for nothing and nothing for all, come on man
we are free
In our illusory-world

Walking with blinders, enjoying the painted sunrise in our mind
Living on paper and never be unkind, no!

The guilty one has to kill someone, until he will provided behind iron bars And smile up to a fucked up cop, because you like this guy so much
In our illusory-world

Walking with blinders, enjoying the painted sunrise in
our mind
Living on paper and never be unkind, no!
Laughing in spot-light and crying when the sun goes down Abusing some children as long as they are cutting their hedgerow

Walking with blinders, enjoying the painted sunrise in
our mind
Living on paper and never be unkind, no!
Consider the darkness and try to find the place where I am like me
(But you will search forever, because you are too illusory)
(But you will search forever, because you are too
illusory)
(But you will search forever, because you are too
illusory)
