Just like the day when our eyes first met
You smile at me still, like I never did you wrong
You patiently listen to all my complaints
While I spit them in your face

Yeah, you pull me away from the manic
Away from the panic in my dreams
Now I'm reborn, now I can see
Oh...

Never again, I promise now
Never again I don't know how
Writing my name across the ground
Trying the hardest I can not to be
Be left behind

It's like my watch has been standing still
I knock on your door on a frosty winter's day
Too scared to tell you I never knew
That someone could be this sweet

Despite my cruelty you ask me to enter
You ask me to rest my worried mind
There at your glance, there at your sheet
Mm...

I just don't want to be alone or left behind
I just don't want to be alone for all my life
