

Bywar

"October Love"

Visit "October Love" on MotoLyrics.com

I see you looking
Your eyes are beautiful
Your face make me glad
Everytime you smile I feel weak
I hear you laughing
Your lips adorable and your mouth is so cute
I watch you walking
Your steps make every guy turn around and look
But the one you aheaded to is me
I know you love me
You always hold me close and give me all your love
But I feel every time you're around somehow
You make me wanna leave everything we got
I don't know what it is or what it is you do
But the thing is like this I can't stand you

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win against love

I see you smiling
But you ain't smiling at me you smile at them
You look at me without a sign
I hear you talking
My words go trough you I am talking to a wall
I watch you sleeping
You dream of someone and that someone ain't me
And I can never be the one you need
I know you hate me
Your always acting cold and show no signs of love
But I feel everytime you're around somehow
You make me hold on to what it is we got
I don't know what it is or what it is you do
But the thing is like this I can't leave you

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we feel
What we feel
What we feel
October love

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win (against love)

What we see may not always be like what we thought
Love is strange and can change
How we feel about someone and what's right
We can fight and win against love

Visit Bywar page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.