Been sitting so long thought I forgot how to walk In the midst of all the stillness there's a new kind of knock Knock knock in my head not not in the bed
Pull the covers sleeping underneath a blanket of dread

Night time right time every living thing every feather finger fin Minutes in between Push us further from the sea

Elementary high university why
After school it's up to you
To fabricate all the lies

Close the window blinds stick to only your kind Strength in numbers means your just another number in line

Unfed undead talking in our sleep Resolutions we can't keep Unsaid unread slipping in the deep Never sowing what we reap

Just say goodbye to the phases
The sweet life
