Close my eyes, exhale your voice from my head.
Looking for some truth in the lies that i was fed.

And your thought for poking im alway's choking, but i can wait my turn. And i built these walls to keep from getting burnt

Cant you here me? What else must i say? lost our touch threw our feelings away,with our sense of reality.
Understand me, my heart is yours. To take away the pain that day it lies iin vain and tears away my heart and my chest shaking.Always giving never taking.

If you could see through my poker face you'd, see im watching your every move. If i can see through your broken heart now i'd lay right down cause i got nothing to lose.

Hold me now, I can feel you. I am so alone. Let her know deep inside her heart is were she is home.

Cant you here me? What else must i say? lost our touch threw our feelings away, with our sense of reality.
Understand me, my heart is yours. To take away the pain that day it lies in vain and tears away my heart and my chest shaking.Always giving never taking

If you can trough My poker face You'd see im watching your every move. If i can see trthrough your broken heart now i'd lay right down cause i got nothing to lose
