Hey mitch,
The're pretty simple really it was one of the first tunes I ever wrote...

I watched you dreaming as the night it slipped away
I got the feeling that your planning not to stay
But your the only one the only one I love
There's no decieving you were dancing from above

I came and saw you on the corner of delight oh yeah
The way you flicked your hair upon the pale moonlight
You came and spoke to me and put me to the test
Oh don't you realize it was better than the rest
Give me a reason not to feel this way was true
I would have waited here forever to see you

Give me a reason to stop playing in the rain oh yeah

I watched you breathing and I felt your every pain.
I saw your face as it got swallowed by the light
And your my only one my only one delight
And when you sleeptalk yeah I write the things you say
And I interprit that you wanted me to say

Give me a reason not to play around your heart
You got to feel it got to feel it from the start
You got to feel it got to feel it from the start
You got to feel it got to feel it from the heart

I watch my dreams tumble down, they tumble down
I have no feeling have no memory now
Stop playing with my heart
Stop playing with my heart
Stop playing with my heart
