These concrete buildings scrape the sky
Capital City's keeping you on my mind all the time
But some days I want to run down these alleys screaming
"Get me the fuck out of this place!"
I'm out of my mind...

Woah! I'm never going, we're never going home
Woah! I'm never going, we're never going home
Never stop moving, Never stop running
Woah! I'm never going, we're never going home

They said "You're never gonna go...
You went off to college and found Albany
45 minutes away from home"
Well, Hudson River City's in my soul,
I love where I'm from but sometimes you gotta go,
And I'm gonna go! Woah!

She asked for planes but only got straw wings
And I broke my arm trying to fly
Still we'll spread out to both horizon lines
Won't stop running until the day I die.
