Oh Yea, you may think I'm crazy
For trying all this baby
For what can seem, like a daydream
So much pressure putting on, from day to day I seem to fall
But nothing will keep me from, standing tall

Says all the haters, there nothing but traitors
And all easy-going faces will never be in my places
But, if you get in my way
Will you then wanna stay?
Because if you're by my side, I may fall of this ride

I might fall but I'm not giving up
I might fall but enough is enough
I might fall so help me stand tall
Because when I fall I feel like being so small

Going through the obstacles
Making me unstoppable
Ready for attention
But they didn't mention
Some dreams would ascension
Rising up to the top
Then being crushed down
I just wanna be a renowned

If you get in my way
Will you then wanna stay?
Because if you're by my side, I may fall of this ride

I might fall but I'm not giving up
I might fall but enough is enough
I might fall so help me stand tall
Because when I fall I feel like being so small

Will I stumble and fall?
Will I have to give it all?
Through the times I will wanna be that one,
That one you'll always wanna see
The one you'll always wanna be
See my face on the big screen

I might fall but I'm not giving up
I might fall but enough is enough
I might fall so help me stand tall
Because when I fall I feel like being so small

I might fall but I'm not giving up
I might fall but enough is enough
I might fall so help me stand tall
Because when I fall I feel like being so small

I might fall to the ground
I may stumble
I may fall down
But I keep getting up again
Keep getting up again
