If you... you're set upon my heart
This little bleeding heart was growing cold
If you... you're three remain
Think that and hope that love could bring us warmth
And quiet breaths that I whisper in
To my heart they let me go,
To what I found, what I hold on to
Many days and nights still left that we don't know

If you...you're set upon my heart
I'm stuck on every little word you say
If you... you must be heaven sent
I'll never ever doubt your three remain
And quiet breaths that I whisper in
To my heart they let me go
to what I found, what I hold on to
Many days and nights still left that we don't know

It's such a race, we 'stead of talking
All my favorite parts
I just turn it off, and we can pickup
Right where we left off
And quiet breaths that I whisper in
To my heart they let me go,
To what I found, what I hold on to
Many days and nights still left that we don't know

You are so beautiful it hurts my eyes,
As I leave you and turn
No way to go, please tell me that some how
We can still offer it or two
There will be no world away from you
Another stay, another night (another night)
