Meet me at the top of my lungs where silence is An epidemic, a subtle cure to this nonsense
Let my words convict your conscience
You're consciously trying your best to get lost
While avoiding my eyes at every cost
So look up and talk down to me
It's nothing short of what we used to be...

I want to scream but I know the consequence
So I'll watch in silence my best defense
As you trip on these words I wrote
When you sing them back I hope you choke

I'm writing to you every word you wish you could've said to me
But this pen and this paper so much more forgiving
Than your eyes could ever be Closed tight... hide emotions inside, the lies that you lied
And the tears that you cried
Drowned in the absence of your inhibition
Lips to him or a bottle hello indecision...

I want to scream but I know the consequence
So I'll watch in silence my best defense
As you trip on these words I wrote
When u sing them back I hope you choke

So wait while I count back the time
4 3 2 one last breath good night
4 3 2 one last breath good night
