Shout out, I know that you can save me
Leave out, cause your not hear nomore.
For two years I got so close to comfort couldn't get so
immune to pain
When everything is empty I remain.

But I miss you now you're gone
Things have changed and you've moved on
But I miss you now your gone things have changed

Scream out loves begging for it's mercy
Deep down it's a curse that seems to cry...
Lately I been down upon my knees waiting to catch your call
When heavens arms are open you will fall.

But I miss you now you're gone
Things have changed and you've moved on
But I miss you now your gone things have changed

Shout out, I know that you can save me
Leave out, cause your not hear nomore.
For two years I got so close to comfort couldn't get so
immune to pain
When everything is empty I remain.
