I've got to stop waiting for you
And move onto someone new
But everything around me is blue
The color that reminds me of you

I've got to stop looking back
My head can get lost off track
And I know that you're not coming back
But Lord, I wish you would now

I feel like my life's got short
I feel like my [Incomprehensible]
I'm looking happy but I'm not
No I'm not, no my baby

I feel like my life's got short
I feel like my [Incomprehensible]
I'm looking happy but I'm not
No, no, no, no, oh

When I think there's nothing left to lose
I take a look at what's in front of you
It's upsetting when I'm forced to choose
I'm reminded of the color blue

When I think there's nothing left to lose
I take a look at what's in front of you
It's upsetting when I'm forced to choose
I'm reminded of the color blue

I've got to stop waiting for you
And move onto someone new
But everything around me is blue
The color that reminds me of you

I've got to stop looking back
My head can get lost off track
And I know that you're not coming back
But Lord, I wish you would now

When I think there's nothing left to lose
I take a look at what's in front of you

It's upsetting when I'm forced to choose
I'm reminded of the color blue

When I think there's nothing left to lose
I take a look at what's in front of you
It's upsetting when I'm forced to choose
I'm reminded of the color blue, blue, blue, blue
