

Candi Staton

"I'd Rather Be An Old Man's Sweetheart"

Visit "I'd Rather Be An Old Man's Sweetheart" on MotoLyrics.com

You may think I'm silly

To love a man twice my age

But I know from experience, girls

Sometime it pays

The man I've got

The fire's almost gone

He can't heat up nobody's house

He's got just enough to keep me warm

I'd rather be an old man's sweetheart

Than to be a young man's fool

Oh, yeah

To love you once a month

Is all an old man desires

You can love a young man

Seven days a week

And still he's not satisfied

And old man would be so grateful

You could just sit and talk

But a young man is somewhere

Doing the camel walk

I'd rather be an old man's sweetheart

Than to be a young man's fool
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Most girls prefer a young man
'Cause a young man is strong
But I'd rather put up with this old man
Than have a young man doing me wrong
And old man would be so grateful
You could just let him sit and talk
But a young man is somewhere busy
Doing the camel walk
I'd rather be an old man's sweetheart
Than to be a young man's fool
Don't wanna be your fool, no
Don't wanna be your fool
Ain't gonna be your fool
Don't wanna be no fool
Young man just ain't gonna do that
No, no, don't wanna be no fool
Ain't gonna be no fool
Ain't gonna be no fool, no, no, no
Ain't gonna be no fool, no

Visit Candi Staton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.