"Swing The Heartache"

Out of her mouth it came as no surprise
Lipstick stained on whip cream lies
I feel that if I had been uglier
It would have been easier

There, there, there, there
There it sat, blinked and spat
In a black feather hat and said, "The rat"

Like a red bouquet, slim swinger
It would have fit her better but no red letter
No red letter

But she wants to be a better singer
Swing the Heartache
Just for her sake

But she wants to be a better singer
Swing the Heartache
Just for her sake

Gruesome
