Thrive

All time we've used for nothing real

Strive

Suffer now, at least you feel

Soulless body here to wander

Fed the tragedy of lust

Fooled through concepts, fake designs

Ongoing, you know you must

Who will justify?

A parametric tragedy

Who will testify?

I'm dead all through

Who will justify?

A paramedic tragedy

Who will testify?

One mourning firmament

Repression, erasure of real thought

Fading away, is this the goal you sought?

Spirit died, left issues unbrought

Desolate ways, for this place you fought

We are left beneath

It's a dead position here

Without particular reason

All these schemes that you hold dear

It can't seem to be treason?

Firmament, one firmament
