In a world of eternal darkness
At a place of long lost innocence
They obey someone else's master
They're just puppets on a broken string
In a time of undying fury
This creation is bound to fail
Down in hell, there's no gold, no glory
Hear the children as they start to pray
And hear the voices of anger
Screaming - Please unlock these chains!
We beg you, have mercy
We will cede you - The key to the undying world
Sombre days, yet a cryptic kingdom
Nothing lives, nothing breathes no more
All their lives they have reached for heaven
In silent prayers, they have lost their fear
They will arise from severe oppression
Out of the ashes they will rise once more

And then the light will prevail the darkness
Raise the flag and let us close this door!
Here the voices of anger screaming
Please unlock these chains
We beg you, have mercy
We will cede you
The key to the undying world
And hear the voices of anger
Screaming - Please unlock these chains!
We beg you, have mercy
We will cede you - The key to the undying world
And hear the voices of anger
Screaming - Please unlock these chains!
We beg you, have mercy
We will cede you - The key to the undying world
Voices of anger
Screaming - Please unlock these chains!
We beg you, have mercy
We will cede you - The key to the undying world
