When you give half of you

I want all of you.

When you give half of you

I want all of you.

When you go back window

You see shadows

When you're shopping for me

'Cause when you give half of you

I want all of you.

Sadness is a gentle mind

But a good women has her hands to use

Empty package of chips will tell you

What can be sold market and what can belongs to you

When you give... when you give half of you

I want all of you.
