Everday we're just getting older everyday we get a little closer everyday we're loosing our grip more and more of our lives are shit take these drugs, they make me sick Addicted, lost and one cruel trick

I am lost never wanted to be like this lost

Everday your scraping your knees Feind and thirst for drugs and disease
I hate myself for this greed Fiend and fiend I get what I need Heavier now the cross I bear
For a god who wasn't there

In these times of turmoil when you don't know what will happen tommorow Realize that we are the future, and have hope that things may change So get up and find yourself

And there will be a riot, in the house of god

I am lost
I won't be a statistic
