"The Magic Suitcase"

The magic suitcase seems to contain
All that you want from your life to gain
But what does it profit a man
If you should lose your soul and live in pain

The magic suitcase with its golden light
That shines out so bright
But over in the afterglow land
Can you fix what never could be alright

Well, I'm standing at the airport behind the yellow line Waitin' for bomb disposal, hopin' I make my flight in time
Anxious faces in the view waiting for a clean up crew
They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away

The magic suitcase went onto the plane
It was a one day that I made to attain
It spent a year at JFK
I complained to TWA but it was all in vain

The magic suitcase took a different flight
I chatted in the middle of the night
Passported at the gate
I get the feeling that it's too late to be alright

And I'm standing at the airport behind the yellow line Waitin' for bomb disposal, hopin' I make my flight in
time
Anxious faces in the view waiting for a clean up crew
They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away

They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away
They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away

Aaaah, they took the magic suitcase
Aaaah, and blew it all away
Aaaah, they took the magic suitcase
Aaaah, and blew it all away

They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away
They took the magic suitcase and blew it all away
