Hey mom, daddy left me here alone
Someone save me, someone save me
Hey God, I'm out here on my own
So now will You save me, now

I think it's funny you've been quiet for so long
When you're quiet no one proves you wrong
And dear your holiness, your army's safe and sound
Down here dying for you

And I don't know how they found me
Found me here
And I don't know how they found me
Found me here

Well, maybe you can trick a lot of 'em
Maybe if you fool the best of 'em
The rest will come around

We're all scared
So they dressed you up in all these different names
I've gotta find peace with myself
Before I give you all, before I give you anything at all

I think it's funny you've been quiet for so long
When you're quiet no one proves you wrong
And dear your holiness, your army's safe and sound
They're down here dying for you

And I don't know how they found me
Found me here
And I don't know how they found me
Found me here

Well, maybe you can trick a lot of 'em
Maybe if you fool the best of 'em
The rest will come around, around

Been thinking that there's something more
And that you'd come down and tell me yourself
Now I realize it's a waste of time
Another penny thrown down the well

And I don't know how they found me
Found me here
And I don't know how they found me
Found me here

And I don't know how they found me
Found me here
And I don't know how they found me
Found me here

Maybe you can trick a lot of 'em
Maybe if you fool the best of 'em
They'll come around
