Let's go out
I could pull my heels on
We'll scream and shout
When the red light comes along

And just like in the movies
The policeman drags you down
For only makin' a sound

[Chorus]
Dance, Mary-Jane
That's the song we used to hang our blues to
With what's-his-name
Oh, I still remember last September

When the sun turned to rain
They were oh-so glad we came
Now we're drivin' to the risin' sun

Let's stay in
We could lay out on the floor
Just reminiscing
About the ones who came before

And as if you might still be
With the boy who laid you down
They quit comin' around

Dance, Mary-Jane
That's the song we used to hang our blues to
With what's-his-name
Oh, I still remember last September

When the blue turned to grey
There was time enough to say
We'll be risin' where the sea is so calm

[Music]

So dance, Mary-Jane
That's the song we used to hang our blues to

With what's-his-name
Oh, I still remember last September

Dance, Mary-Jane
That's the song we used to hang our blues to
With what's-his-name
Oh, I still remember last September

Dance, Mary-Jane (don't wanna hear about it) That's the song we used to hang our blues to (don't wanna hear about it, girl)
With what's-his-name (don't wanna hear about it)
Oh, I still remember last September (don't wanna hear about it, girl)

Let's stay in
We could lay out on the floor
Just reminiscing
About the ones who came before
