Never thought I'd feel your pain or sorrow
Never thought I'd realize
That our time is borrowed
Never thought that I'd be scared to see tomorrow
But I know there's some things I can't change

But I couldn't find a way
To take your pain away
I couldn't even find a single word
For me to say
If I could bring you here today
We'd get down on our knees and we'd pray
But I couldn't find a way

We can only choose one road to follow
But we will never know when
That road will end
And even if we never see tomorrow
But I know there's some things
We can't change

A way for me to catch you when you fall
A way for me to break down every wall
A way for me to pick you up
And keep you honey
Keep you standing tall ...
