The heart is a stone and
This is a stone that we throw
Put your hand on this stone
It's the stone of a home you
Know they say we will go far
But they don't know how far We'll go with our legs on
The edge and our feet on the Horizon

They say we can throw far
But they don't know how far
We throw with our legs on
The edge and our feet on the Horizon. The heart is a stone and this is a stone that we throw
They say we will go far out
They didn't know how far we'll go

This push and pull
Is the force of a wave of time
In the heat of a night, we would cry, you are not mine
They said we would go far but they didn't know how far we'd go
Cause this heart is a stone and this is a stone that we throw

It can't be gone
We're still right here
It took so long
Can't say we heard it all
Limbs parallel
We stood so long, we fell

Tear a moment
From the days
That carry us on forever
Bright pyramids at night
That carry us on forever
Love's like a pantheon
It carries on forever
Can't say we saw it all

Can't say we felt it all
