There wasn't anyone to fight
There wasn't a soul in town
No one to show me wrong from right
And no one to turn me down

But there was hope the day you came
Finally I could open my eyes

I can see the bright lights
And they are blazing
Illuminating my nights
It's so amazing

Showing me the way
So I never go astray
If you take my hand
Then I now you'll understand

I had nothing left to give
And then you came along
You really showed me how to live
Showed me where I belong

I was walking in my sleep
I needed to stop
You woke me up

I can see the bright lights
And they are blazing
Illuminating my nights
It's so amazing

Showing me the way
So I never go astray
If you take my hand
Then I now you'll understand
