Oh here inside
I live, I hide
A place so red an warm...
I feel a sound
A scream so round
I guess it's you who holds me

For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
I become
For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
Here's the day

From night till dawn, my cord is torn
But now the day is here.
To be as new
To see is too
The world is shown to me today

For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
I become
For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
Here's the day

The sky's the limit
It's so exiting
My worlds's exploding

For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
I become
For the first time in life, my life is a life
Through the minutes and hours
Here's the day
