Someday, rested from hours of sleeping

We'll stay safely behind what we're keeping

You'll seem warmer than I had remembered you

Lying so close I'll be able to feel you breathe

I could never leave

One day, when I am able to love you

I'll come back from wherever I've been to

I'll see you looking the same as you always have

Lovely, so lovely, I'll cling to the love you give

So I'll start to live

Someday is coming

If I believe it

Someday always brings the good life you knew ...

Ever back to you

(* ) How I need you

Someday, all I can give you is someday

Someday, all I can offer is someday

Please say that you'll be waiting when someday comes

Promise me this and a kiss, to keep what you are Always close to me

Repeat (*)
