I can crawl into your mind, see
I can always cut you down to my size, huh?
Always have to watch 'cause I'm on the prowl
24 just to find a bit of space that is vacant inside

You give me credit for my smartness
But your mono minds complicate my simplicity
Not omnipresent but I wish I was
I am just a scar if you had been born to the King

I've got a problem, I can't move within your ways
You've got a solid that I've never moved away
And I desire you to die

I am persistent and I will not give you in
I lusted you from the moment you changed skin
So please, won't you be me? You've got to like me

Even when you're at the top I will still go possess you
When you're in distress I will come concentrate
All my energy create a distraction that will form a way
It's a simple equation

I've got a problem, I can't move within your ways
You've got a solid that I've never moved away
And I desire you to die

I am persistent and I will not give you in
I lusted you from the moment you changed skin
So please, won't you be me?

Crawl to my side, I am here
And I'm waiting for you to dine in my arms
Come and make me, you can't deny me

I'll even shine like an angel
And everyone will think that I am something beautiful
People will worship the thing that I am
Just as long as they don't, they don't see my face

I've got a problem, I can't move within your ways
You've got a solid that I've never moved away

And I desire you to die

I am persistent and I will not give you in
I lusted you from the moment you changed skin
So please, won't you be me?

Crawl to my side, I am here
And I'm waiting for you to dine in my arms
Come and make me

I cannot give my soul to you
A perfect friend took it far away from me

I've got a problem, I can't move within your ways
You've got a solid that I've never moved away
And I desire you to die

I am persistent and I will not give you in
I lusted you from the moment you changed skin
So please, won't you be me?
