Baby when I look at you, you make me think bout the times i've been through. At the dawn of summer 08 i told my dog to keep some peace when the milkman comes...Just to let me Drift A-away to fight the demons in my dreams- that remind me of you! Lemme drift away drift away drift away through the night dont wake me baby im tryin to kill the demons in my dreams and they make me think of you! Baby when i think of you, i think of the prom and our first kiss, of the other girls who called me names just to get to you but then you left for your quarterback-job, i was in the dust as the cheerleading captain kissed you on the cheek and said,": leave carrie there." So let me drift away drift away and kill the demons like you... Baby Tonya hates you now...and so do I!
