I'll love you 'til we're black and we're blue.
There's no words I could say to make me change.
And my minds made up, my thoughts stay the same.
Baby I love you we'll make it through.

The hole in my head is from the fire in your tongue.
Our fights with the sink, our fights in the sun.
The rent's in my hands, the bills on these strings,
But I'll make it work, cuz these are our dreams.

And I'll love you 'til we're black and we're blue.
There's no words I could say to make me change.
And my minds made up, my thoughts stay the same.
Baby I love you we'll make it through.

I lie awake, alone in my bed,
And neither of us can fix this hole in my chest.
And you're in some town, a thousand miles away.
You're singing your dreams, now you're singing my name.

And I'll love you 'til we're black and we're blue.
There's no words I could say to make me change.
And my minds made up, my thoughts stay the same.
Baby I love you we'll make it through.

I'll love you 'til we're black and we're blue.
There's no words I could say to make me change.
And my minds made up, my thoughts stay the same.
Baby I'll love you we'll make it through.
