You bones broken blue with limbs outstretched climbing your timber-best your glory unleashed climb Julia, and kiss the ground goodbye climb Julia, 100 and 80 feet high a slab at best motions her quest triumph over the machine and earth is ever eager to seed Luna says I love you, as wide as ever seen And years proclaim the life

An existence meant to mean And hear echoes holler below And beckon where you just wont go

climb Julia, and kiss the ground goodbye
climb Julia, 100 and 80 feet high

Oh aaaaaah Julia kiss the ground the sweet ground goodbye OOOh Julia
180 feet high oh high oh high
