I got no reasons to be lonely
Only this drink in my hand
I got no senses
I got no money
Honey, would you like to dance?

Then your eyes, they sparkle as shards of light
That fall from a crystal ball across the floor
And I'll hold you close like mine
Your lips smell like wine and
I'm thinkin', this could be my time
This could be my time...

There's no words to be spoken
Broken is my heart
And I've been hidin', confidin' in myself

Then your eyes, they sparkle like shards of light
That fall from a crystal ball across the floor
And I'll hold you close like mine
Your lips smell like wine and
I'm thinkin', this could be my time
This could be my time...

So, I'll keep on dreamin'
Reality is just believin' there's a chance

Then your eyes'll sparkle like shards of light
That fall from a crystal ball across the floor
And I'll hold you close like mine
Your lips smell like wine or dine
I'm thinkin', this could be my time
This could be my time...

This could be my time, yeah!
This could be my time...
