When you left last night, to the beat of the floor,
Walked yourself right out the door,
Said if I see you again it'll be too soon,

But I've got something to say to you,
Well I'm Ok at the fact that we're through, now,
Ain't it funny how love makes the world go blind,

(Chorus)

And I don't know how far you'll make it,
Before you realize your heart is breaking,
But by that time well I'll be gone,
Standin' in the driveway waivin',
There's a breath of freedom I've been cravin',
Maybe this time was the last,
Oh you're goin' nowhere fast

Now I wont miss your late night crying,
Your accusations my denying,
If you don't trust me just say you don't,
Cuz' you say you hate me, you say I'm leavin',
I'm so tired of this not believin',
But I will love you is all it was,

And I don't know how far you'll make it,
Before you realize your heart is breaking,
By that time well I'll be gone,
Standin' in the driveway waivin',
There's a breath of freedom I've been cravin',
Maybe this time was the last,
Oh you're goin' nowhere fast

I take half the blame for this,
But it's not you I'm gonna miss,
