So, what if I won't go to the show,
will they know that I'm not a princess like they thought,
just faked like a facade.

I think I lost my glow,
I won't go, but I know that the show will go on anyway... no way...
This is my chance and I'm not gonna fail!

This is the Mystique of the queen.
She is never in-between.
Old, good and bad.
Its the price you must pay
To lead a life in glamour, champagne all night,
There's nothing in her eyes
but the mild and tempered.

Smiles when its polite, its a fright.
She can never lose her face.
All eyes are watching, they know of her grace.
Flash of a camera,
no reaction but the mild and tempered smile,
Monotonic style.
