I look into the sky
And I wonder why
Why she had to die
Oh, I miss her so
The pain will always grow
She was my best friend
And that'll never happen again

All the times
We used to smile
And play hide and seek
I loved you enough to let you cheat

When I found out
My tears fell down
And my heart sank to the bottom
My best friend
Died in the end
And now I feel that nothing is real
My heart stopped
Because I was so shocked

Do you remember first grade?
The days that we played
The laughs we both shared
And all the fights over stupid things
That we made up for in the end
And then came summer
I saw you everyday
You'd always come over to see if I could play

All the times
We used to smile
And play hide and seek
I loved you enough to let you cheat

When I found out
My tears fell down
And my heart sank to the bottom
My best friend
Died in the end
And now I feel that nothing is real

My heart stopped
Because I was so shocked

And when you died
Tried to count the hours I cried
I told you everything
Like when he gave me that ring
I miss all the memories

And now you've gone and left this world
My tears continue to fall down
