The night air is cool and wet
Honestly I need to forget
The time was full of pain and sorrow
I pray that I'll see tomorrow...
I don't understand why I'm like this
I long for his embrace, and for his kiss
Tears are just the memories
That I need to throw away...
Run down the streets and look like a fool
The things you did...
To be considered cool
Mistakes are coming your way
You need to let them fade
