Why don't we start this off withÂ
Last summer we were drunk and alone
But I believed the gravityÂ
Would keep you afloatÂ
When you took to the bridgeÂ
And you thought you could fly
Then dived to the underneathÂ
Reflecting the sky

But I'll be fine it's making senseÂ
This moonlit sky is obvious

Please don't let me go
This moonlit sky is so obvious
For me to show this precious and colorful moment
Now retracing every step to the first day that we met
It becomes clear to me
This moment is history

What if we started overÂ
So it's just you and me
Lets make a go of itÂ
So innocent and indiscreetÂ
We could drown together
And say goodbye as we choke
Or we could live forever withÂ
Promises you promised me that

I'll be fine it's making senseÂ
So sweet divine and confident

Please don't let me go
This moonlit sky is so obvious
For me to show this precious and colorful moment
Now retracing every step to the first day that we met
It becomes clear to me
This moment is history

This moment is history
