

The Bears

"You Can Buy Friends"

Visit "You Can Buy Friends" on MotoLyrics.com

A squat greek sips his ouzo fingering his gold neck chain robust corn-fed american beauties lick the salty rim of margaritas in the corner lies a comatose musician dreaming on the job again you can't buy love but you can buy friends upon her breast a shiny crucifix holier than me i guess sheds friends like a snake sheds skin her laughter sounds so venomous in his corner lies the once proud musician thinking on the job again

Visit The Bears page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.