I wanted a little more than your backside attention,
Well if I try I might get in before you know,
And I remember every word that you have ever said,
Well let your insecurities lead you straight to bed.

From what I hear you are a liar,
And baby, I've got a lot to learn,
Your eyes have set this place on fire,
And baby yeah, I meant exactly what I said,
I saved myself and then left you for dead.

Well she's under-dressed, and he's wanting less,
But I look so good playing the role of second best,
But I must apologize for leaving you with this mess,
Screaming your pride out, always leaves me less impressed.

Well I was right this time
I'm still right this time.
