I've got something to tell you,
And I can assure you it's coming from straight within my chest,
I'm not one for excuses, but I want to let you know, you're just like all the rest,
So take these words, and take this knife,
Just push them straight into my back, Cause I know it's what you've been waiting for.

So take these dreams and bury my heart six feet beneath,
I'm still writing the letters that you will never read,
I won't leave cause my jobs not done 'til you don't breathe,
Red handed, but you'll still try to tell me it's not what...

It seems to get worse every time I look into your eyes, I get caught, I always catch myself falling for your disguise,
So cliché, like the petals on a flower that you've already worn,
Don't bother writing all those letters that I've already torn.

I'm torn.
