Once she came into my room, feathered hat an' all Wearing a warm wool shawl wrapped around her shoulders
Two eyes like lights, milky marble whites looking up at me
Looking for a way, moon's in an endless day

All I knew was with her then, no couldn't see the time
As we drank down the wine to the last sweet Scarlet How was I to wonder why or even question this Underneath her kiss, I was so unguarded

Every bottle's empty now and all those dreams are gone
Ah, but the song carries on, so holy

She was so much younger then, wild like the wind
A gypsy with a grin from an old far away country
But deep beneath her curls Beneath this misty pearl, there was more to see

She could move mountains in the dark as silent as a knife
She cut loose a life that she never, no never really wanted

All those days are frozen now and all those scars are gone

Come let us drink again, before the second show I want you so to know, that there's no bridge between us
All those gates have opened now
And through the light has shone
