Resistance will result in a massacre
Giving in could spell obliteration

You'll be forced to retreat
And to give up everything
If that's what he wants then that's what he gets Helpless, your people run and hide
Scatted like ants X3

You're fucking done

In this war the lies spread

Through his teeth
I'm not letting this go.
You'll swallow your pride or swallow your tongue

I will not be a pawn to your torment
I cannot be a salve to your laws
But still in the end you remain unquestioned
In your anticipation of the end X2

I will rip out your throat X2
