My obsession with causing torment will be the death of you

You should have listened

So bitch scream murder for me just one more time

You should have kept your distance

I will round up your family

One by one, against the wall

Lie to their face and tell them that it's going to be okay

Or shut your mouth and say nothing at all

I am humanity's savior

In a world overcrowded with the diseased

I am doing the fucking world a favor

This is the cleansing

My obsession with causing torment will be the death of
you

You should have listened

So bitch scream murder for me

I should have never taken off my mask

Now I have to kill you all

I am extermination

I am Goliath

In this, your end of days. You've crossed the line from enemy

You became a casualty, but I fear that you will outweigh your losses

I'll tear down the crosses

I'll destroy your faith

Your God

I know it's all that you have

You'll never wake up again

You hear me?

You'll never wake up again
