I feel, like the one who can't break up
Am i unwelcome, should i leave with all my doubt
I know, these feelings always pass
But tonight i'm all alone, should i just ask

I can't sleep with these objects closing in
I'm short of breath*
I'm tired, i'm tired of running
Even my dreams, they seem to take effect
I'm losing it
I'm losing it

You say, you'll lighten up my load
My back is broken,
Maybe i should just stay home
You say, you'll hold me in these times
So wrap your arms around me,
And ease my troubled mind

I can't sleep with these objects closing in
I'm short of breathe*
I'm tired, i'm tired of running
Even my dreams, they seem to take effect
I'm losing it
I'm losing it
Time steals my heart, feeling naked once again
I can't move i'm tired
Tired of running (tired of running)
Tired of running'
