I have come a thousand miles to be standing here today
I will go a thousand more 'cause there's a light to lead my way

I have cried a thousand tears
Some in sunshine, some in rain
When they fall I dried them all 'cause love's been calling out my name

In my dreams I have reached for the sky
Seen the light in the face of an angel
Shining down on me

Like the tide turns the sea
I will love you, endlessly
Like the stars in the sky
Shine forever, through the night

In my heart you will always be, my love, endlessly

I will wash away your cares
So I can show my love is true
I will climb the highest mountain
Just to bring the moon to you

Like two rocks out on the shore
Through the ages side by side
You and I will stand together
In the miracle of life

In my heart I keep hearing a song
It is love with the voice of an angel
Calling out for me

Like the tide turns the sea
I will love you, endlessly
Like the stars in the sky
Shine forever, through the night

In my heart you will always be
I will hold you this close forever

Let me give you all my dreams to dream
I will love, endlessly

Like the tide turns the sea
I will love you, endlessly
Like the stars in the sky
Shine forever, through the night

In my heart you will always be, my love, endlessly
