"Under A Clear Blue Sky"

if old friends ain't soothing no more they may have been cheating before you think there is nothing in store you got time on your hands, but what for?
the shields will come off after dark for troubled souls and broken hearts stand naked before the crowd if old songs ain't soothing no more

they may have been cheating before you think all that love's out the door you got time on your hands, but what for?

and all that you wanted to know

no mountain high enough no matter what will come I'm gonna cheer you up we're gonna rise
