I guess it's over now.
I think we've seen the end.
When our common dream.
Faltered in the between.
Though i've tried so hard to make it real.
It doesn't matter now.
I guess it never did.
(chorus)
And it's alright alright alright with me.
And it's alright if that's how you want it to be.
I've learned through weakness
And through the web of your lies.
That everyday i levi.
Another piece of me dies.
And in the black and white.
I found aneed to move on.
To find a road of gold.
A throne to live upon.
And it's alright alright alright with me.
And it's alright if that's how you want it to be.
If there's a reason for the pain
Then let me know.
If i'm the reason for your pain
Then let me go.
And it's alright alright alright with me.
And it's alright if that's how you want it to be.
