i'm forced to admit that i'm too weak to quit and i don't have the courage to make it alone i'm too weak to get through a day on my own wasted once again and i think i've fallen i tried to stand my ground but i'm fallin down yes, i've tasted life again and i think i've fallen ah tell me my old friend about fallin' down pick me up, dust me off, but don't run me through it cause i didn't mean to do it again

tried to find my mind but my head is hollow it's hard to speak your peace when nothin's there so if i try to leave, please don't follow cause i ain't really goin' anywhere if you're lookin' for a platform stand with me

stand with me
the true reformer is the new performer bless you california you're the only state for me every little person with a little radio waitin for somebody to tell 'em where to go what you're singin's in the realm of worldly things and when it sinks in do ya bring 'em into the fold?

tryin to find my mind but my head is hollow it's hard to speak your peace when nothin' there so if i try to leave, please don't follow
cause i ain't really goin' anywhere.
