So you find yourself alone
In the middle of the road
You're looking for the answer
You're looking for the truth
You're looking for the reason
But it all comes down to you

You don't need to be forgiven
You don't need a place to hide
It all feels like heaven
Right down inside

So you time has finally come
Love has put you to the test
You can not find this feeling
When someone's there for you
Someone you believe in
Well it all come down to you

You don't need to be forgiven
You don't need a place to hide
It all feels like heaven
Right down inside

You don't need to be forgiven
You don't need a place to hide
It all feels like heaven
Right down inside

You don't need to be forgiven
You don't need a place to hide
It all feels like heaven
Right down inside

Right down inside
It all feels like heaven
Right down
Right down inside
