Should we follow our own advice? should we do what we're told all the time? there are answers a man should know. for the ones i don't have, i only wish i could stand there like you do. chin up, hands to the side of you. wear it while you can. get up and take it like a man. it's an average place to be. it's the one i have made up for me. there are things that I cannot know. when i'm feeling this bad, i only wish i could stand there like you do. chin up, hands to the side of you. wear it while you can. get up and take it like a man.
